

We first found February because it has 28 days. Since it starts on Saturday so we needed to find a month that ends at Friday so that would be January. February ends on Friday so we needed to find a month to be March that starts on Saturday. So we used the same strategy for the other months. Here is a photo of our solution.

By Hanusha and Julian