The person who was away has to be a girl because two boys were there on that day because yellow is a boy and blue is a girl and there is only one girl with T their first letter of their name so the girl must be Tessa. I knew that it was T because I looked at my tally chart and it had 3 people with T as their first letter but the class's block graph had only 2.

The letters of the block graph is J M N P S. I got this from looking at my own and when I looked they just stood out because of the 2 lower ones!
